Þórsmörk and the South Coast with a View of the Volcano

We start by driving in our Super Jeeps along the south shore, heading for one of the places that Icelanders appreciate most, Þórsmörk (The woods of Thor). It is the valley, in the south of Iceland, surrounded by three glaciers and mountains, creating favourable circumstances for the native vegetation of birch trees and variety of plants. From Þórsmörk it is possible to view the volcano that recently erupted in Eyjafjallajökull glacier. Before entering the valley we make a short stops at Seljalandsfoss, a waterfall you can walk behind and by a glacier tongue descending into a glacial lagoon. Several glacial rivers have to be crossed on the way to Þórsmörk, demonstrating the capabilities of the Super Jeep. A picnic lunch will be broad along and enjoyed outside.

Price: 180 € Included in the price is a guided full day Super Jeep tour with picnic lunch.

Departure at 08:30 from the Conference Hotels. Arrival back not later than 18:00

Please wear warm cloths, a windbreaker and good sturdy shoes.
